THE FATAL FOURTH.

By H. M. Ayres.

Sing low and sing high for the Fourth of July.
Trill out a jubilee song;
Louder and louder—bang goes the powder—
An ambulance rattles along.

See the small boy with his dynamite toy
And his gun with a cartridge of lull;
The Star Spangled Banner is an also ranner
Compared with the Dead March in Saul.

Mark his wee sister—her face is a blister—
She held a live squib in her mouth;
On one of her fingers a big bandage lingers—
Her north eye is pointing due south.

In papa's coat-pocket reposes a rocket,
With fuse lighted carefully well;
"Don't hold in the hand" are the words on the band
But this method works like a spell.

Hail the day of all days—the town's in a blaze,
There's weeping and wailing galore;
The land's sown with sorrow, by this time tomorrow
One cannot buy crepe in a store.

When is done the parade many holes with a spade
Will be dug—though cremation is nearer;
The Fourth of July trims the small boy supply
And makes overtime for Saint Peter.

Sing high and sing low for the nation's great show,
The boom and the bang and the rattle—
On the Fourth of July more patriots die
Than lay down their lives in a battle.

MARINE

Commodore Tuttle of the yacht Anemone is said to have entered into negotiations with the Inter-Island steamship company for the purchase of the gasoline schooner Eclipse, and is said to have offered $10,000 for the vessel, acting on cable advices from a prospective purchaser on the mainland. If the boat is acquired by these parties she will be used in trade between Seattle and Mexico, taking various products from the north to Mexico and returning with salt cargoes. The Inter-Island company is said to be considering the offer and their decision may be made known in a few days, as the Anemone is to sail shortly for Seattle.

The Eclipse is a fine vessel with gasoline auxiliary power and is a sister ship to the Surprise, which was wrecked on one of the islands a few years ago. Both vessels were brought here by the McChesneys for island trade, but they were ultimately acquired by the Inter-Island company. The Eclipse was recently renovated throughout.

FOUND LA PALOMA LEAKS.

Hawaii's cup defender, La Paloma, was put on the marine railway yesterday about noon for an overhauling to ascertain the cause of the leaking which required the crew to bail out sixty gallons of water per day. A great gap was found in the quarter, where the boards overlap the stern. This hole made it possible for the boat to take in water at a surprisingly fast rate. Investigation from within the boat under the deck and about the steering wheel showed considerable water inside with bits of decayed wood floating around. Then there was a hole in the hull near the keel, an opening having been made between two boards. The rudder fastenings were also found to have been loosened. The hole in the hull and the damage to the rudder were occasioned by the little vessel going aground while at Belvidere.

COWAN'S NEW LAUNCH.

The new launch for Mr. Cowan, to be used in and about Hilo harbor, is being completed at Peter High's shops on Alakea street. The launch, out of the water, appears to be very large, but in reality she is slightly smaller than Young Bros.' launch Waterwitch. She will be equipped with a 20-horsepower gasoline engine, and will be ready for launching in a couple of weeks. She is quite roomy and is built for work, not pleasure.

SHIPPING NOTES.

A mail will probably arrive from San Francisco next week Tuesday or Wednesday by the A.-H. S. S. Californian.

A Jap stevedore was injured yesterday morning while unloading lumber from the schooner Spokane. He was attended by Dr. Cooper.

The schooner A. F. Brown is discharging cargo at Mahukona. Purser Friel of the Mauna Loa reports the following sugar on Hawaii: Honolulu, 200 bags; Honokaa, 2500; Paahana, 11,000.

The A.-H. freighter California left San Francisco for Honolulu direct at 5:15 a. m. The Nevada sails from Tacoma and Seattle for Honolulu on July 20. The Nebraskan is supposed to be en route from the Sound for Honolulu. The Alaskan and Texan are both en route from New York for San Francisco.

Introduced by the chair at the last meeting of the board, to the effect that the engineering work of the Honolulu road department be placed under the control of the County Engineer. Mr. Smith made the following statement: It is incumbent on me to state the meaning of the resolution, inasmuch as an impression prevails in some quarters that the ultimate object of the resolution is to curtail or limit the power of the Committee on Roads and Bridges or the authority of the Road Supervisor for Honolulu.

Nothing could be farther from the object sought, than this, nor, if passed, would the result be such. In the history of road building, in Honolulu, we have never had such efficient work on the streets of the city as has been accomplished in the past twelve months. The work for the future, however, requires the advice and co-operation of an engineer.

When, in the deliberations of this Board, it was first decided to employ an engineer, the original intention was that all the work, requiring engineering skill, should be placed under his control.

Prior to the advent of County government the engineering work had been under the control of three separate departments of the government, none of which felt it necessary to make complete, joint, records. To obtain the records now requires more time than the employees of the County have to give.

The Construction and Maintenance Departments of the County Government are well managed under the Roads and Bridges Committee and by the Road Supervisor.

The objects of the resolution are: 1. The proper establishing of grades, work that should be ahead of construction, whereas now it is behind, and the placing the control of this work under the engineer.

2. The marking of street lines and making a permanent record thereof, this has never been properly attempted. 3. The recording of the size, location and depth of all storm sewers and drains.

The furnishing to the Roads and Bridges Committee plans, specifications and estimates of cost of work in the line of bridges, sewers, culverts, grading and macadamizing of streets, wherever an engineer's knowledge is required.

5. The superintending of all construction work above referred to.

The eventual result of the resolution will be a saving to the taxpayer, the making of permanent county records, available at all times and in one place. Uniformity in all work attempted and completed and the fulfilling of the original policy of the Board.

At 9:45 p. m. the board adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

LAND IN PARCELS TO SUIT THE MILLIONAIRES

Honolulu, July 3, 1906.

Editor Advertiser: As you say in your editorial of July 24: "Here in Hawaii is room for hundreds of white families on land now obtainable from the government," and yet an advertisement of the land department appears daily offering a thousand acres of land in one body at an upset price of some $36,000. What opportunity is open to white farmers to obtain good land, mind, I say, GOOD, TILLABLE, AGRICULTURAL land, which should imply land with a fair share of the water naturally flowing through it? Can any farmer or any colony of farmers invest $36,000 to secure what is presumably one of our best areas of good agricultural land? I have seen many tracts of land which have been or are to be opened for "settlement." Some of these are good, average land, but many areas are rocky, or cut up by gulches, or heavily forested, or are areas from which the water rights which should have been inalienable have been previously sold.

Another point, is it fair to ask settlers to pay in advance the full or any considerable share of the purchase money for land bought from the government? A man who takes up new land needs all his capital for improvements and development, and for the maintenance of himself and family during the unproductive months before a crop can be harvested.

Tomorrow is the birthday of our Republic. Our country is a land where the ideals have always been those of individual equality and equal privileges and advantages to all. As an American I do not see the fairness of offering large bodies of what is known to be superior agricultural land at prices which will shut out, absolutely, all but those few individuals or corporations who now control so large a share of the agricultural lands of Hawaii.

partment to do work of this sort, two inches bitumen on six inches concrete, for twenty-four cents per square foot. The other property interests on the south side of Fort street have signified their willingness to complete the gutting to King street.

I would suggest that the placing of a catch basin on the makai side of Hotel street and just Waikiki of crossing, and connecting the same with the storm sewer, would do much to relieve the situation.

Inasmuch as the construction of the gutter will necessitate the reconstruction of at least one half of the street macadam, I would recommend that the execution of the work be referred to the Honolulu Road Department.

Respectfully yours,

G. H. GERE,

County Engineer, County of Oahu.

AN ECHO FROM MOLOKAI.

Director Walter Brinckerhoff of the Molokai Leprosy Investigation Station made the following request:

Honolulu, T. H., June 28, 1906.

Mr. George W. Smith, President Board of Supervisors, County of Oahu.

Honolulu, T. H.

Sir: I have the honor to request your assistance with respect to the planning of the Leprosy Investigation Station by your granting permission to Mr. G. H. Gere, County Engineer, to accompany me to the Island of Molokai for the purpose of determining the feasibility, probable cost, etc., of building a wagon road from Makalahou Point to the site of the Leprosy Investigation Station. Mr. Gere's experience and technical knowledge will be of great value to me in furnishing data to the Surgeon General of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service with regard to the above named improvement, which improvement will be of great value to the Station, and it is hoped to the Leprosy Settlement.

The trip should not consume over two days.

Respectfully,
WALTER R. BRINCKERHOFF,
Director, Molokai Leprosy Investigation Station.

Leave has been granted Gere to make the trip. The U. S. R. C. Manning will convey the engineer to Molokai.

THE POLICE REPORT.

A report of the county police department for June was submitted and read. The report showed 27 convictions for drunkenness, 58 convictions for gambling, and 2 convictions for selling spirituous liquor without license.

Arrests for the month totaled 233 and convictions 140. Fines amounted to $938 and costs to $127.40. Bail forfeited amounted to $113 and out of $1065.40 in fines and costs imposed, $403 was paid. The police department estimate for July totaled $9015.

The estimate of county expenses for the current month is $32,025.

THE WAIANAE IMPEACHMENT.

The chair moved that the County Attorney be requested to furnish the board with information relative to the Waianae Impeachment case.

"The Kekauoha case took 3 months," said Smith, "and this case has been going on for six weeks. The grand jury reported a grave state of affairs at Waianae and if the deputy sheriff be guilty he should be punished, and vice versa, as expeditiously as possible."

COUNTY WANTS FARES.

The chair made a motion which was unanimously carried, that County Attorney Douthitt be requested to render an opinion as to the legality of the Territory collecting costs and dues imposed and collected by the police department of the County of Oahu.

As matters stand the county pays the shot and the territory reaps the financial profits.
